The Silo and Its Management.

The silo and its management was one of the topics considered at a recent farmers' institute in Wisconsin. One member thought that much more depends upon the corn when cut up than upon the method of filling the silo. Six silos were represented in the audience, and all were satisfied with it, and all commonly used corn for the bulk of their silo crop next year.

The discussion warranted the following conclusion: There is a growing tendency to raise sweet corn for silage; if corn is very green it may safely be permitted to wilt considerably before putting it into the silo; if corn is fairly matured it is safest not to dry it much, as, if too dry, the silage is not as succulent as it should be, there not being sufficient moisture to produce the heat required to properly ensilage it.

A member who had had considerable experience said that a small silo may be used with good results if the corners be omitted. If building newly he would construct a round silo, then erect the feeding stable around it to keep it warm.
In filling the silo he thinks the better method is to do it continuously from start to finish.

An Authority on Butter Color.

Howard's Dairyman says. Although we do not say dispense with all butter color —for it is a harmless way to please the eye if good color is properly admixed—yet we hold up both hands and lift our voice loud for coloring the butter all that it judiciously can be through the feed and breed of the cow. We do this not so much for the sake of the color in the butter thus imparted as we do because we know that such as well as color comes through the use of well bred cows most generously fed. If we get the butter colored that way it will come garnished all over with gold, more profitably produced than most of that which is dug from the mines.

Onions for Poultry.

Those who give their poultry finely chopped onions once or twice a week along with their other food, will find it an excellent preventive for various diseases, especially where fowls are not allowed to run at large and gather food for themselves. When kept in the close confinement of small runs, much more attention is necessary in supplying them with a variety than where they have a larger liberty, and for keeping them in good health onions are among the best things that can be given them.

Notes on the Care of Strawberry Plants.

A Connecticut grower of fruits, G. S.
Butler by name, claims that the best fertilizer for strawberries is good old barnyard manure, which may be helped out by an application of fine ground bone and muriate of potash. A caution is given against nitrate of soda for strawberry plants. According to Mr. Butler the best time to pick is from 4 p. m.
until dark, berries picked at that time keep longer than if picked either with the dew on or while hot. Always send berries to market in neat packages, with good clean white twine.

"DON'T BE A PROVINCIALIST."

Somebody in the Edmonton Bulletin says potatoes were frozen all along the line from Winnipeg to Calgary. "Somebody" is in error. The potato crop at Calgary and vicinity has suffered nothing from frost. "Don't be a provincialist," my Edmonton friend, there is room for Edmonton and the "line from Winnipeg to Calgary" in this country, and it does not do one part of the country any good to cry down another portion of it.

INDIANS SETTING FIRES.

Complaints are being made by residents in the neighborhood of Battle River and Duck Lake that the Stony Indians set fires out in that district which have done incalculable harm to the timber and hay interests of residents and capitalists. Halfbreeds state that the fires are set in the timber and comes out on the prairie, and they ask why the "Government can't do something."

We think, if it is true that the Indians are setting out fires, that the Indian Agents should inform the Commissioner wherever and whenever complaints to that effect are made, so that he may do whatever is necessary to protect the country from a recurrence of such vandalism.

It is true that the Indians are often laid on Indians when it ought to be laid on other parties, but even where it is improper to lay the Commissioner should always be informed, so that an investigation may show the truth. After all, the question is part of that larger question "why can't the Indians be compelled to stop on their reserves?" The missionaries of the country are amongst the foremost in asking the same question why, indeed! apparently because "the Government does not think it politic to irritate them."

There is an expression which sums up the universal feeling of the Northwest Territories when such a reason as that is given for allowing Indians to wander off their reserves, setting out fires, killing game and fish out of season, destroying the eggs of game, and in some cases making prostitutes of their women,—that expression is "Rats".

THE DEAD NORTHWEST BILL.

Bill No. 136, it will be remembered, was the "Act to consolidate and amend the Acts respecting the Northwest Territories," introduced by Hon. Mr. Dewdney in the House last session and abandoned because too much discussion was threatened at that stage of the session. Mr. Dewdney, however, promised to bring it in next session.

Neutral as the act is, we have shrewd doubts of its being brought up next session unless the people of the Territories interest themselves in the matter. If its provisions were leading to discussion last session, what would be the result of its introduction next session, with the dual language and the separate school clauses imprinted on it, to say nothing of its new provisions in regard to the liquor traffic? The best of Ministers might well grow faint hearted at the prospect.

And yet in the interests of the Territories we hope Mr. Dewdney will reintroduce the bill. Some of its ameliorating provisions are very important. In three particulars they are of the highest importance. The first in importance may be considered the liquor question, which the Bill authorizes the Northwest Assembly to deal with after the dissolution of the present assembly. The second is the status of married women in the Territories in regard to the holding of property, the Bill authorizing the Assembly to deal with this question as it pleases. The last is in regard to wills which the N. W. Assembly is also authorized to deal with.

Besides these are other provisions that could not fail to be beneficial to us, so that it may readily be seen how important it is to the Territories that this Bill should be introduced again and passed, in spite of the likelihood of a good deal of discussion arising on the dual language and separate school clauses.

Perhaps however if it is shown that a discussion of those clauses at Ottawa is not very necessary, that for instance the Northwest Assembly feels competent at its next session to advise the Government definitely in regard to both these matters in the full assurance that it represents the Territories throughout and knows what the country desires, Parliament might conclude to let the people of this country have their own way and settle their own business, and the bill be passed for the sake of the very important provisions we have noted.

But it would be a mistake to suppose that, in the matter of reintroducing the Bill, the Government will not be largely influenced by the action the Northwest Assembly, at its next session, chooses to take in regard to it.

The Races.
(From Saturday's Daily.)

The first day of the Autumn race-meeting was a great success in spite of the numerous postponements the sudden cold snap necessitated. The grandstand was well filled and the pool and refreshment booths did a rattling business.

In regard to the racing itself there is every reason to congratulate the members of the Association and the judges and committees for the very excellent sport offered the public. For the first time in the history of Calgary racing the races followed each other without any tedious waiting between whiles and there was no wrangling over the results with the exception perhaps of a little spat between rival jockeys over the second heat in the three-quarter mile race, where the colored rider of Charlotte J. claimed a foul because Grey Eagle's jockey had crossed him two or three times on the home stretch. The foul was disallowed and Charlotte J.'s jockey was ruled of the Association tracks for slugging the judges. With this exception everything went off well.

The 3 minute trot did not fill on account of Mabel S. being ineligible. The favorite was beaten in the three-quarter mile dash in two straight heats by Grey Eagle, and the favorites Wanda and Thankful won the pony race and the mile and a quarter dash respectively. In the mile and a quarter dash, lots of money changed hands on Ordinance, he having been backed against the field for second place, and coming in last.

The following is an account of the races:—

At the top of the bell four horses responded to the call—Grey Eagle g. g.; Rosebud, b. m.; Charlotte J. b. m.; Loadstone, h. g. Rosebud drew the pole, Charlotte J. second, Loadstone third, Grey Eagle fourth. Pools sold 10 to 8 Charlotte J. favorite. Grey Eagle took the lead at the start and never was headed. Charlotte J. a good second, Rosebud five lengths behind, Loadstone distanced. Time 1:21.

Second heat: Pools sold 10 to 3, Grey Eagle favorite, but no buyers. It was an even start Grey Eagle and Charlotte J. ran neck and neck to the half, when Charlotte J.'s jockey commenced to whip, whipping all the way home, Grey Eagle winning at a gallop, Rosebud three lengths behind; time 1:26.

PONY RACE, HALF MILE HEATS.

At the top of the bell five horses responded. Don Pedro s. g.; Wanda b. m. v.; Nevada s. m.; Ethel b. m.; Swayback c. g.

Wanda sold favorite 10 to 7. Wanda took the lead and kept it throughout, Don Pedro keeping a length and a half behind, with Nevada three lengths behind him, and Ethel three lengths behind her, Swayback being left at the post. Time 53. Don Pedro had a heavy cold or he would have made a hot race.

Second heat: A repetition of the first heat except that Nevada and Ethel changed places. Time 52.

MILE AND A QUARTER DASH.

Five horses faced the starter; Thankful b. m.; Sir Henry b. s.; Silver Cross b. m.; Ordinance c. m.; Baronet s. s. Thankful was barred in the betting, Ordinance was favorite against the field at 10 to 8. Thankful won. Silver Cross, who was not in condition, ran a very good second, Baronet being a fair third, and Ordinance nowhere.

Second Day of the Race Meeting.

(From Monday's Daily.)

Saturday was all that could be wished for from a racing point of view, the air mild, and the sun not too warm, the track however was heavy as the time made in the various events shows. The events of the day were Bob White's winning the free-for-all trot from Silver Tail, and Loadstone's pucky race in with Harkaway in the hurdle race. Bob White, driven by Proctor, ran very gamely, winning three straight heats, Silver Tail behaving very badly. Loadstone would seem to be a match in every way for Harkaway, the difference in weight of the riders being more than enough to account for the distance between the two at the finish. McPherson on Harkaway more than sustained his reputation as a rider.

ONE MILE HEATS.

Three horses faced the starter, Silver Tail (barred in the betting) had the pole, Mabel S. second, Bob White third, Bob White was favorite in the betting over Mabel S. The start was an even one and the three went to the half in a bunch, then drew up and went to the distance post on even terms with Silver Tail, when the latter broke and Bob won by a length, Mabel S. being five lengths behind. Time 2:46.

Second heat—Another good start was effected. Silver Tail forged ahead and took the pole, he and Bob White going on even terms to the half. Here Silver Tail again broke and Bob White won by a length. Time 2:43 1/4.

Third heat.—At the request of the owner the judges here changed the driver of Silver Tail, the pools selling Bob $10, Field $7. Another good start was effected, but Silver Tail broke almost immediately and Bob took the lead leading by five lengths at the half. Silver Tail drew up to within a length and a half, but broke again at the distance flag and came in a length and a half behind. Time 2:46 1/4. Bob's victory being hailed with applause.

NOVELTY.

There was lively betting on the novelty. Chuck being favorite at the quarter, Grey Eagle at the half with Sangaroo a hot second, and Thankful a hot favorite for the three-quarters and the mile. The chief interest, however, centered in the contest between Grey Eagle and Sangaroo for the half. The start was a ragged one, Chuck being almost left at the post and Grey Eagle being between two and three lengths behind Sangaroo, Charlotte J. had the pole, Sangaroo second, Chuck third, Grey Eagle fourth and Thankful on the outside. The race to the half was eagerly watched and a cheer went up as Sangaroo took it, Grey Eagle being next with Thankful a length and a half behind. Thankful then went to the front winning the three-quarters and the mile in an easy gallop. Time .28, .54, 1.22 and 1.53 1/4.

HURDLE RACE.

Four horses faced the starter; Jimmy at the pole, Wild Rose second, Loadstone third and Harkaway fourth. The field was favorite just before the start at $10 to $7 against Wild Rose. Wild Rose led to the half, and Jimmy to the three-quarters, where the latter went to his knees at the hurdle, tumbling off his rider and galloping around the course alone. At the distance stand Wild Rose stumbled at the hurdle dismounting his rider, who was not able to remount till Harkaway and Loadstone were three hundred yards ahead and running handsomely. Critchley's weight, however, gave Loadstone a disadvantage, and this and McPherson's excellent riding brought Harkaway in an easy winner.

Sunset Cox Dead.

NEW YORK, Sept. 11.—Congressman S. S. Cox died last evening.

Storms at Sea.

NEW YORK, Sept. 11.—Incoming vessels are anxiously awaiting for news about the great storm at sea which has been raging for the last few days. That it has been the worst storm in recent years is made evident by the high tides and storm waves which have done such damage along the coast.

Storms at Sea.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 12.—The damage along the coast from Bayhead to Barnegate is unprecedented. The railroad from Seaside to Berkeley is washed away. People are fleeing from the region in any way they can.

NEW YORK, Sept. 12.—Steamships arriving today from the east and south report passing through a storm of unprecedented severity.

LEWES, Del., Sept. 12.—There are 17 sail ashore here, with fully a score more fast drawing upon the breakers.

The Great Storm.

NEW YORK, Sept. 13.—Though the storm in this vicinity has somewhat abated, it has not passed. It is still raining very heavily and the wind is blowing with considerable force. The damage to shipping at Delaware breakwater will reach five millions. Seamen say this is the worst storm since the blizzard of March 1888. It is estimated that fifty lives have been lost.

Sir A. T. Galt's Road Goes South to Helena.

HELENA, Sept. 13.—It is officially announced that a number of Helena capitalists have completed arrangements with Sir A. T. Galt for building the Montana & Canada Railway to run from Helena to Lethbridge via Great Falls and Fort Benton. Work will be commenced at once and the road will be finished from Lethbridge to Fort Benton before the snow flies.

Great Tides.

NEW YORK, Sept. 13.—The greatest tide ever experienced struck Long Island at 6 o'clock this morning, and increased in volume and fury until long past 8 o'clock. Consternation reigned supreme everywhere. The water poured in volumes underneath the Manhattan beach hotel floor, and beds were inundated fully a foot. All the lamp posts which boarded the path next to the sea have been literally torn from their foundations and bent and broken as if they were straws and dashed against the music stand. The concrete wall directly in front of the big building was undermined and torn away and the bulkhead has been torn up and rent asunder. The cellar of the hotel at 8 o'clock this morning had five feet of water in it. The little strips of land between the Brighton and Manhattan hotels has been eaten away, and the ocean and Sheephead Bay is connected by fully five feet of water. The Manhattan and Oriental hotels stand by themselves on a little island that is fast being eaten away.

The Great Storm.

NEW YORK, Sept. 14.—All incoming vessels report terrific weather during the past four days.

Snow in Colorado.

DENVER, Col., Sept. 16.—Specials from most of the mountain districts, show that for this season of the year it has been snowing unusually hard all day yesterday.

The Fatal Wire.

NEW YORK, Sept. 14.—Joseph Matze, an Italian fruit vendor, was killed today by falling on a line of electric light wire. He was trying to clear the gutter and slipped, his body being terribly burned.

$300,000 Fire.

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., Sept. 16.—The main building of the Exposition was destroyed by fire last night. The main building is a total loss. All the exhibits and booths were destroyed. The fine steel car, which is on exhibition, was also destroyed. The total loss is estimated at $200,000. Loss on the car $40,000.

Through Niagara Whirlpool.

NIAGARA FALLS, N. Y., Sept. 16.—Walter G. Campbell, despite the predictions of all who knew anything about the whirlpool, this afternoon passed through and lives to tell the story. He wore a suit of padded cork and says he wouldn't do the trip again for all New York State with all the others piled on top.

FOREIGN.

Latest Whitechapel Horror.

LONDON, Sept. 11.—The latest Whitechapel murder is the most horrible of the Whitechapel series. The dissection of the body showed the perpetrator to be possessed of considerable surgical skill. The murdered woman was about thirty years of age, and evidently addicted to the excessive use of liquor. The head and legs were cut off and carried away, and stomach ripped open leaving the bowels lying on the ground.

The Great Strike.

LONDON, Sept. 11.—At a meeting of the strikers last night, Burns again assailed the American workmen for their failure to contribute money in aid of the strikers. "With all their boasting and bluffing," he said, "they have given nothing. If ever dockmen were in a position to congratulate themselves, it is now, for no less than $7,000 were received yesterday from Australia alone, but nary a red cent from America. D—n your pity, give us your bob."

No Clue to "Jack the Ripper."

LONDON, Sept. 12.—The police have thus far been unable to find any clue to the perpetrator of the latest Whitechapel murder. The body of the murdered woman has not been identified.

Stanley at Last.

LONDON, Sept. 12.—A report has been received from the Congo that Stanley has conquered after great hardships and terrible fighting, all the tribes in the country lying to the east and of the Albert Nyanza, and that the explorer having completed their subjection and established a government, his arrival at Zanzibar may be expected before long.

Irish University Bill.

LONDON, Sept. 14.—The Irish Catholic publishes an alleged forecast of the Government's Irish University bill. According to this the Royal University will not be abolished, but its establishment will be largely decreased.

Bulgaria to be Declared Independent.

LONDON, Sept. 17.—It is officially confirmed that the independence of Bulgaria will shortly be proclaimed.

Captured by Brigands.

BERLIN, Sept. 17.—The British consul at Nisch, Mr. Macdonald, and a party of friends, were captured by brigands a few days ago, but were released in a short time.

The Time the French Exposition Will Close.

PARIS, Sept. 12.—It had not been definitely decided as to the time when the exposition would close, and in response to public appeals from many quarters for a postponement of the time for closing, the directors met today and announced that the exhibition must close on October 31.

Arrested for Using German.

ST. PETERSBURG, Sept. 12.—The entire bench of judges of the district courts in the department of Riga have been arrested by order of the government. They are accused of persistently using the German language on the bench after they had received orders from St. Petersburg to use the Russian only.

Stanley Making for the East Coast.

BRUSSELS, Sept. 13.—Le Mouvement Geographique today says that Stanley is marching to the coast with Mombasa as his objective point. From information just received from an absolute trustworthy source, it is learned that Stanley, after fighting his way through and conquering Unyoro and Uganda, established the authority of the British East Africa Company from the Upper Nile to the east coast. It is extremely doubtful that Emin Pasha is with Stanley, all information tending to show that he remained behind.

London Strike Ended.

LONDON, Sept. 16.—The workmen of London held a monster demonstration at Hyde Park to celebrate the victory of the London dock laborers in finally securing from the dock directors almost every concession for which they contended.

Regina August 29th 1889.

LOCAL

Tuesday.

Mrs. Barker, wife of Constable Barker, of the town police, is reported much better today.

In the race between Grey Eagle and Wanda this afternoon, Grey Eagle gave Wanda 20 lbs.

Work has been resumed on the side walk on Oiler street south of the track, leading to the agricultural grounds.

Mat. Johnson, of the Military Colonization Ranch is in town en route to Montreal where he will undergo surgical treatment.

The handsome prize list of the Agricultural Exhibition is now out. Those wishing to obtain copies may have them by applying to the Secretary.

Mr. John Lindeham and James A. McMillan leave in the morning for Sheep Creek, to lay out some Northwest Government money in that direction.

Mr. Critchley thinks if he had not lost a stirrup and ridden the last three-quarters of a mile without one, he would have won the hurdle race on Saturday.

A cat race for a mile, to come off in the next three weeks, for $100 a side has been arranged between Harkaway, ridden by McPherson and Loadstone, ridden by Critchley. Weights will be even 165 lbs.

George K. Leeson left by the express this morning for Spokane Falls, having received word that his brother, Andrew, bridge foreman on the Northern Pacific, was dangerously hurt.

Grey Eagle and Wanda were matched yesterday to run a quarter-mile dash at one o'clock for $100 a side. A number of spectators went over to the track to witness the race which was won handily by Grey Eagle.

The C. P. R. have commenced grading Hardisty street and are putting in a crossing over the track. This is a much needed improvement. To those who do not know the east end, we might say that this is the second street east of the post office.

A match is being arranged between Grey Eagle and Sangaroo for $500, to take place in a day or two. The race to be a novelty one for half a mile, $250 for the quarter and $250 for the half. This ought to be a fine exhibition as both horses have very strong backing and each side is confident of winning.

In a letter to the Detroit Tribune Mr. James F. Joy, a gentleman of large influence and great experience in railway affairs, says that the present fight over Canadian competition with American railway systems, is not one between Canadian and American railway systems, but that it is the fight of the people of the United States against a railway combination for monopoly purposes. The people, he says, "will not submit to additional tax on every bushel of wheat or barrel of flour or other product they send to market for the purpose of turning their business over to the New York Central or any other American road and away from the cheapest route. If that be the object of the controversy, and the interests of great sections of the country are to be sacrificed for it, the railroads will and ought to go to the wall in the fight." Concluding an article on Mr. Joy's letter, the St. Paul Pioneer Press says: "The proposition to close the avenues of the carrying trade which lead through Canada is one that will raise a storm of indignation in Congress and out of it when its real purport is understood. It will never be approved or even tolerated by our people."

The Protestant Public School Report.

To the Board of Protestant School Trustees, Calgary:

GENTLEMEN,—At the last meeting of the Board it was thought that the report of the department of the junior department of the school, called for the establishment of a fifth school room, and I was empowered to make arrangements for this purpose. I found it impossible to get any suitable room in any central location that could be made immediately available.

In the meantime I have made an enquiry in the four departments of our school and find the daily average attendance to be as follows:—Junior department under the charge of Miss Cowan, 50; 2nd and 3rd class under the charge of Miss Brodgen, 40; 4th and 5th class under the charge of Miss McIntyre, 23; Union school under the charge of Mr. Short, 15.

This irregularity of numbers in the respective departments, I am glad to say is only a temporary embarrassment arising from the organization and establishment of our Union school, the admission to which is governed by the Ordinances, and limited to those pupils who pass the examination required by law. After some consideration of the situation with reference to the above, I am led to believe that at the coming Christmas examination there will be found such an increased number in Miss McIntyre's department, qualified for admission to the Union school, as will permit of a general advancement and adjustment of the pupils in the various rooms as will sufficiently lessen the large attendance in the lower rooms.

Considering the large outlay that would be entailed at the present in establishing a fifth department outside for the coming winter, and the probably decreased attendance during the cold weather, I recommend that no further action be taken in the matter, until the increased attendance of next summer makes the organization of an additional junior school a necessity.

Respectfully submitted,
JAMES REILLY,
Chairman S. B.
Calgary, Sept. 14th, 1889.

A Proper Punishment.

"O, George," she murmured, "I know you are strong and will protect me, yet even now, as we recline in this swinging hammock, I am surrounded by fear. 'Fear, my darling!' said George De-Ronley, 'what fear can surround you?' 'Atmosphere,' she chuckled, and the hammock broke down to punish her.

Presentation to Mr. Dewdney.

Before his departure from Westminster, Hon. Mr. Dewdney was presented with a fine large oil painting by Mr. W. H. Nansen. The picture represents Mr. Nansen standing beside the largest salmon ever caught in the Fraser river, and which weighed some 75 pounds, measured 3 feet 6 in circumference and almost 5 feet in length. Some 50 years years ago H. N. Mr. Dewdney and Mr. Nansen together caught some of the first salmon ever taken by whitemen from the Fraser river, and it is in memory of this event, and for the "days of old lang syne" that the presentation was made. Hon. Mr. Dewdney was delighted with the gift, which he will take to Ottawa and give a place among the articles he most greatly treasures.—Colonist.

A Million Bushels.

Although people talk easily about a million bushels of wheat, but very few of them (says Iron) realize what a vast amount that represents. If a million bushels were loaded on American freight cars, 500 bushels to a car, it would fill a train fifteen miles long; if transported by wagon, forty-four bushels per wagon, it would make a line of teams 142 miles long. If made into bread, reckoning a bushel to 60 lbs. of flour, it would give every man, woman and child in the United States 2 1/2 lbs. of bread. With the above in mind, the reader can better appreciate the following brief statement:—There are used annually in the United States about 15,000,000 bushels of wheat in various manufactures, such as starch, food preparations, sizing for cloth and paper; 51,000,000 bushels are required for seedling, and 285,000,000 for food consumption, which leaves about 50,000,000 bushels for export.

Ottawa Journal: Mr. Gladstone "doing" the Paris exposition with the enthusiasm of youth at the age of eighty is an inspiring sight. It is only equaled by Sir John Macdonald who in his 75th year caught a New Brunswick train with a hop, step and jump as it was leaving him at the station.

A Wretched Piece of Business.

The Chief of Police has been engaged in gathering the particulars of a rather curious case lately. It seems that on Wednesday of last week a young English woman, named Jenny Stockton, who came out from England a year ago, and after serving a short time at the Windsor, left to go into service at the Rossin House, gave birth to an infant on the prairie near Shaganappi Point. The infant was shipped up to Morley to the address of a well-known resident of that place, and inquiries being set on foot, the Chief was instructed to find the mother and learn the particulars. The mother was found at the shack of a Mr. Allen on section 16, and her story to the Chief was that the Morleyite was the father of the child, that he had seduced her and she thought he was the proper person to take charge of it. She gave birth, she said to the child on the prairie and was cared for during that time by a Half-breed whose name she did not know. She afterwards went to Allen's shack and paid the Half-breed to take the baby in a basket to Morley. The basket was left at Morley at the section house and was then delivered to Mrs. Scott of the Rossin House who was then at Morley. Subsequently the Mission Orphanage at Morley took charge of the child and Mrs. Scott returned to Calgary. The police at Morley communicated with the Calgary police and the above story is the result. A day or so ago the Chief got an unsigned letter praying him to "do what was right for the sake of a poor deceived girl" etc. There are other features in the case which render the story, to say the least, a very curious one, but it can be readily understood that until the truth is known it would be undivisible to mention names or speak much further of the matter. It is to be hoped a proper investigation will be made so that the blame may be put upon the right parties. The unfortunate girl is still at Allen's place.

How the Hawaii Revolt was put Down.

Two ambitious subjects of King Kalakana of Hawaii attempted to overthrow the government the other day. They attacked the royal palace with a crowd of valiant ragamuffins at their heels and made a dangerous demonstration with a brass cannon or two. But the material king, who had been "taking in the town" with some boom companions, and who, therefore, had escaped being couped up in the palace, rallied the Honolulu militia and prepared to do or die. The rebels were soon driven to cover in a bungalow, where they waited for reinforcements. The civil war in Hawaii was at a stand still. Both parties rested on their arms.

At this crisis some follower of the king suggested dynamite. It was a happy thought. Dynamite was secured and put in bottles along with a great deal of ominous scrap iron. The next question was: How should the dynamite be brought into contact with the rebels? The distance was too great for an ordinary man to hurl the bottle and no one could suggest any other way to explode the contents in the proper place.

Then his majesty Kalakana spoke. "King," he said, "the pitcher of the Honolulu baseball club."

The pitcher was brought. He had learned his art from Captain Anson's men, when those Chicagoans sailed around the world last year. He hastened to put a few bottles of dynamite where it would do the rebels the most harm. Many were killed and wounded by the explosions. The rest surrendered.

This is the first rebellion ever put down by a baseball player. We live in a frivolous age. Even war has its humorous side even in—Honolulu—[Chicago Daily News.]

The Influence of Climate.

The stranger within our gates could not imagine that there is a vast difference between the climate of New York and that of Brooklyn, but such is the case. Persons whose lungs are weak or their throats liable to trouble cannot live with comfort or safety, in parts of Brooklyn which are exposed to the sweep of the east winds from the ocean, and are frequently advised to seek a home in New York. Deer show this even more quickly than human beings. In our Central Park they live as comfortably as they would in the heart of the Alleghenies, but in Prospect Park, Brooklyn, they go into a galloping consumption, and are quickly decimated. During the last fifteen years there have been have 130 deer in the spacious inclosure in Prospect Park, and all of them with the exception of four bucks and one doe, are dead of a disease that closely resembles consumption—New York Letter.

Letter from Rev. Father Lodge.
To the Editor of the Herald.
DEAR SIR,—Will you have the kindness to allow me the use of the HERALD to return my best thanks to the best inhabitants of Calgary and to all those people who have done so much for the success of the bazaar held on the 10th, 11th and 12th inst.

I don't know how to express my gratitude to all the Catholic ladies who have worked so hard and with so great a devotedness long before and during the time of the bazaar.

Special thanks are due to the Protestant ladies and the rev. gentlemen who came to help either at the tables or at the concert of the 11th.

I beg to say also how grateful I am for the kind attendance of the N. W. M. P. brass band, which contributed so much to the success of the charitable undertaking.

The church in course of erection will be a monument for our so well progressing young city of Calgary. The expenses are terribly heavy; every cent is spared by us to contribute to the completion of this fine building and I am accordingly thankful for any sympathy shown to us; for any help received.

The candidates for the gold watch have done their best to procure by this competition a larger amount of votes and consequently a more considerable receipt, to cover as much as possible the debt contracted. They did not work for the value of the watch itself or for their own advantage, but they were actuated by a higher motive. My best thanks to them all and my best compliments to the happy and deserving winner of the watch, Miss M. Lee, of the postoffice.

Mrs. Angus Sparrow won the Silver Pitcher.

Mrs. A. Kennedy won the Bracelet.

Mr. Lapenautiere won the Gold Ring and Table.

Place of Refuge for Boulanger.

A Halifax letter to the Boston Transcript says:—It is said in the upper provinces, among the French Canadians, there is a considerable Boulangerist propaganda, and if the General and his black horse are exiled he may take refuge in Quebec. He is an honorary life member of the Canadian Society of St. John, and that is very dear to the French Canadians. The survival of the French sentiment is remarkable, considering the mighty race that has always made short work of other annexed or conquered nationalities before. There are in Cape Breton many villages exactly like the French villages in Brittany. The women wear the snowy peasant cap, and the village government is patriarchal, there are neither lawyers nor doctors among them, and the curfew rings punctually at nine o'clock.
